One live dashboard, updated automatically every week

- All figures come from six public SIREC files published by Colombia's Ministry of Culture, refreshed by an automated pipeline every Thursday.
- "Colombian films" are titles whose main producing country is Colombia. Shares compare feature films only, because short films' admissions depend on the features they accompany.
- Admissions per film are cumulative to date: films released recently are still adding viewers.
- Market, revenue and regional figures cover all films shown in Colombia; SIREC does not publish revenue per film.
